

8 Great ways...

State Crimes

The influence of globalisation and Western culture on warlords leads to increased conflict – conflict over resources/minerals and involvement of global mafias in conflicts e.g. Coltan in DRC

Green Crimes

Role of transnational corporations in disposing of waste and increased air and water pollution in developing world is a product of globalisation – less environmental regulations

Financial Crime

Money laundering – global banks cleaning money for Russian Mafia through city of London one example of financial crime possible due to complex international finance procedures

State Sponsored Terrorism

Rise of anti-Western feeling due to cultural imperialism, anti-globalisation feeling and Western intervention in Middle East has led to a rise in state sponsored terrorism

Relative Deprivation

Outsourcing of traditional manufacturing industries from Western nations to developing world has led to relative deprivation in areas of the UK – this leads to more criminal activity, status frustration due to lack of jobs and resentment towards economic migrants – resulting in hate crimes.

Cyber Crime

Development of internet has led to an increase in phishing scams, cyber trespass, identity fraud, and interference in global politics, e.g. Cambridge Analytica

Trafficking

Drugs, Arms and Human Trafficking have increased due to growth of international travel and overstretched resources of national border patrols to stop organised criminals shipping goods

Media Awareness

Growth of media has given more knowledge of global crimes that are being committed and a fear of criminal behaviour in other areas spreading to the UK
